TAROT COUNSELING NEWS

Tarot & Transformation

Transformation is the process of change from the known to the unknown. When consulting the Tarot, many of us are seeking information to address questions we have about our lives. It is this searching that opens us to the possibility of change.

Most change entails three main stages. First, you need to be willing to ask the question, such as in consulting the Tarot cards. Second, you consult the cards and notice what lesson or information is presenting itself. Third, and most important, you integrate this new information into your life allowing yourself to alter your perspective and feeling about the original question. Your life may never be the same!
